ABOUT ESTIMIZE

Launched in 2011, Estimize is an open financial forecasts platform designed to collect forward looking financial forecasts from independent, buy-side, and sell-side analysts, along with those of private investors and academics.

By sourcing estimates from a diverse community of individuals, Estimize provides a more accurate, more timely, and more representative view of expectations compared to data sets sourced from brokers which suffer from several severe biases.

Estimize represents the market's true consensus, with our data regularly referenced in notable financial media sources.
